DATE: August 31, 2020

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to inform interested District K-12 teachers, counselors, and administrators of the University of California, San Diego (UCSD)/Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) Gifted and Talented Education (GATE) Certification Program.

MAJOR CHANGES: This memorandum replaces MEM-5809.2 of the same subject dated September 30, 2019. This memorandum informs school personnel of the UCSD/LAUSD GATE Certification Program.

INSTRUCTIONS: I. BACKGROUND

District GATE policy recommends that all K-12 teachers of gifted learners participate in a minimum of 16 hours of GATE professional development annually (four hours for administrators). The required hours of GATE professional development for Schools for Advanced Studies (SAS) teachers and administrators are in accordance with their SAS designation agreement.

To support effective practices for identifying and serving gifted/talented learners, Gifted/Talented Programs, Advanced Learning Options, offers each academic year a number of free professional development opportunities, including salary point classes, special topics workshops, small group trainings, and online training sessions.

Although the state of California and District do not require formal teacher certification in gifted education, the UCSD/LAUSD GATE Certification Program provides an avenue for District educators to strengthen their knowledge, understanding and skills that address the unique needs of gifted and high ability students resulting in the implementation of evidence-based practices that support increased achievement.

MEMORANDUM

II. UCSD/LAUSD GATE CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

- A. Program Description-The UCSD/LAUSD GATE Certification Program is a unique opportunity to obtain university GATE certification with the completion of five courses.
1. Two of the courses are in-seat salary point classes offered by LAUSD Gifted/Talented Programs.
 2. Three additional courses are instructor-led online courses offered through the Education Department at UCSD Extension.
 3. The certification program is aligned with the California Recommended Standards for Programs for Gifted and Talented Students, District GATE policy, and the LAUSD Strategic Plan.
 4. The certification program emphasizes the following:
 - a. Characteristics and special needs, both cognitive and affective, of gifted students.
 - b. Relevance of cultural, ethnic, and socio-economic factors in relation to identification, assessment, and achievement of the gifted.
 - c. Research-based instructional strategies to differentiate the core curriculum, i.e., acceleration/pacing, depth, complexity and novelty.
 - d. Role of assessment used to identify, monitor, assess, and evaluate the progress of gifted learners.
 - e. California Content Standards and their relationship to gifted instructional practices.
- B. Program Benefits-All gifted learners deserve the highest quality of instruction possible.
1. Effective practice occurs when District staff are aware of and able to respond to the unique qualities and characteristics of their students. This is accomplished through rigorous training on gifted education and differentiated instruction. GATE professional development is a benefit to the employee as well as the students served.
 2. Although the certification program is optional, participation in the program ensures that educators:
 - a. Acquire specialized skills to construct a differentiated curriculum that addresses the needs of underrepresented learners, able-underachieving learners, English Learners, Standard English Learners, and twice-exceptional learners.
 - b. Learn research-based instructional strategies to differentiate the core curriculum, i.e., acceleration/pacing, depth, complexity, and novelty.
 - c. Gain a heightened ability to screen and identify characteristics of gifted learners, with an emphasis on underrepresented populations.

LOS ANGELES UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

LOS ANGELES UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT/ UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO GATE CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

The Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) and the Education Department at University of California, San Diego (UCSD) Extension offer a certification program in gifted education which is designed specifically around the unique needs of LAUSD teachers working with diverse gifted and talented learners.

This program, which began in March 2017, offers teachers the opportunity to blend District GATE professional development and university online coursework to earn GATE certification and twelve quarter units of salary-scale applicable academic credit.

Other features of the program include:

- Research and practice-based curriculum, with coursework in brain-compatible learning; socioemotional characteristics and needs of the gifted and talented; differentiated instruction (foundations and practice); and a personalized capstone/portfolio course.
- Coursework that focuses on the unique needs of diverse gifted learners and the policies, procedures, and resources available within LAUSD. (Courses are only available to LAUSD teachers.)
- Contextually grounded seminars that explore practical solutions for gifted students in poverty, twice-exceptional gifted students, gifted English Learners, and historically underrepresented minorities who are gifted.
- Flexible and low-cost programming. Readings are embedded within courses and there are no books to purchase or rent. Each course is concise and focused, lasting approximately one month.
- Small class size (course enrollment will not exceed 20 teachers), offering opportunities for synergistic conversations between teachers as they investigate how to meet the unique needs of gifted students.
- Courses are differentiated for elementary, middle, and high school teachers.
- Incorporation of state standards and frameworks; best practices for gifted and talented learners; science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics (STEAM); and special topics, such as the arts and gifted education and working with parents and the community.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The certification program is aligned with the California Recommended Standards for Programs for Gifted and Talented Students and District instructional goals. This unique hybrid program combines existing District Gifted/Talented Programs salary point class training with coursework presented from the University of California, San Diego (UCSD). Participants will experience a holistic training model that encompasses multiple approaches and strategies to best meet the needs of gifted/talented learners. This is a unique certification model that is also cost-sensitive for participants.

LOS ANGELES UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT MEMORANDUM

Learning explores the ways in which problem-centered learning; experiential and epiphany-based learning; empowerment and choice; memory; technology use; informal/formal learning resources; and practical relevance serve as catalysts for creativity and commitment within and across disciplinary areas embedded with state standards for gifted and talented students. Implications and strategies for instruction will be presented and discussed, especially as they relate to English Learners, low-socioeconomic status learners and culturally and linguistically diverse learners. This course is a prerequisite for enrollment in Practicum in Gifted and Talented Education. Format: online, instructor-led. Duration: one month. Credit: 4 quarter units.

EDUC 40114 Socioemotional Characteristics of the Gifted and Talented offers a review of the history and politics of GATE in the United States, setting the stage for a more detailed understanding of the nature of giftedness and talent. This course also explores the social and emotional characteristics unique to diverse gifted individuals, including the impacts of asynchrony; perfectionism; twice exceptionality; among others. Special attention is paid to the needs of multicultural and English Learner gifted students. Strategies for the design and delivery of curriculum to address these characteristics will be presented for collaborative discussion. This course is a prerequisite for enrollment in Practicum in Gifted and Talented Education. Format: online, instructor-led. Duration: one month. Credit: 4 quarter units.

EDUC 40115 Practicum in Gifted and Talented Education is a course that provides educators an opportunity to demonstrate competencies in the development and delivery of assessment-based strategies within gifted education (differentiated instruction, iconic teaching, depth and complexity, tiered assignments, and technology use, for example), connecting them together in a cohesive manner. Candidates will collaborate with the course instructor to determine an appropriate signature project based on academic and professional interests and to establish meaningful benchmarks and artifacts. This may take the form of an action research project on a topic of professional interest or a curated portfolio of work. The signature project includes organized reflections of practice and artifacts offering evidence of knowledge, skills and abilities that can be used by peers. Prerequisites: Socioemotional Characteristics of the Gifted and Talented; Brain-Compatible Learning I; and Instructional Strategies (LAUSD). Format: online, instructor-led. Duration: one month. Credit: 4 quarter units.
