

Los Angeles Unified Workshop Series

Transition to Summer Learning for Families

During this time of learning at home for our students, the Los Angeles Unified is offering the following workshop series for parents and families. It is important to empower ourselves with the necessary tools to support our children and be mindful of self-care during this time. The workshop series will present valuable information, and practice strategies with you to use with children in various grade levels. Each workshop is accessed on Zoom by using the following link and password, as well as phone number:
