Note: Teachers will identify additional vocabulary words/phrases from the lesson students might have challenges with and add them to this list.

- Say: As we go through the lesson, I will review each of the vocabulary words. We will encounter them specifically in the Constructive Conversation Norms section. I will stop and give you time to capture these in your Thinking Journal. I will also stop and review the words during the lesson. I will give you time at the end of the lesson to review the words and clarify as needed.

Teacher addresses the vocabulary list as many times as necessary and teaches the words in context. Provide time to revisit the Thinking Journal as necessary.

Lesson Structure

(1a2) Knowledge of Content Related Pedagogy / 1d1 Standards-Based Learning Activities

This lesson is intended to teach the constructive conversation skill CREATE. There are 5 parts to this lesson: 1) conversation norms, 2) hand gesture, 3) model and non-model, 4) student independent practice, and 5) language sample.

Lesson Introduction:

- Post and read ELD Objective(s)
- Post and introduce Constructive Conversation Skills Poster
- Post and introduce Conversation Norms Poster
- Post and introduce Conversation Norms visual text

Today we are going to begin by practicing the Conversation Norms (see Appendix A) and the CREATE skill.

1. Conversation Norms

A. Use your Think Time

- Say: Think time is for students to process what they are viewing (point to Appendix A, the Conversation Norms Poster). First, we focus and read the entire text. A text could be visual or written. When reading a visual text, we look closely at all areas of the text (point to Appendix B, Conversation Norms Visual Text).

• Norms Visual Text. Then we take time to think about what we have read or seen and how it makes sense to us. In our minds, we think about the ideas we have. We might ask ourselves questions about the visual text. In our minds, we also practice and say our ideas.

• Demonstration: Teacher will answer the following prompt: “What do you notice in the visual text?” Teacher models looking at the visual text and examines it closely. Teacher nods head and places index finger on the temple of his/her head to demonstrate think time.

• Debrief:
  o Teacher: “Converse with your partner.” Answer the following prompt: “How did I demonstrate think time? What did you notice?” After 1 minute, bring the students back to share-out.
  o Targeted Response: I noticed your eyes on the visual text; you put your finger on your temple to show you were thinking.

B. Use the Language of the skill CREATE

• Say: The next norm is Use the Language of the Skill (point to Conversation Norms Poster). We use the language of the skill CREATE (e.g., “My idea is”, “I notice”) to share our ideas, start statements, and ask questions. Use Appendix H, the Designated ELD Placemat, for language examples. The sample prompts listed on the Placemat are not an exhaustive list. Additional prompts are available on the Constructive Conversation Skills poster(s).

• Demonstration: The teacher will select a student with whom to read the following script. Provide a script for the student to read (see Appendix C – Constructive Conversation Skills Script).

  Teacher: I notice the children are making something to eat. What is your idea?

  Student: My idea is they are all working together to bake a cake. What else do you notice?

• Debrief:
  o Teacher: “Converse with your partner.” Answer the following prompt: “How did I use the language of the skill with my partner?” After 1 minute, bring students back to share-out.
  o Targeted Response: I heard the teacher and partner using the response starter, “My idea is” and the prompt starter, “What is your idea?”

C. Use your Conversation Voice

• Say: The next norm is Use your Conversation Voice (point to Conversation Norms Poster). The way you do this is by projecting your voice and speaking clearly.

• Demonstration: Teacher selects a student volunteer. Both are facing each other. The teacher uses a clear voice. The teacher and the student take turns and build on each other’s ideas. Teacher may reuse the script from Language of the Skill. TIP: have the student mumble a bit and have the teacher speak clearly.

- Debrief:
  - Teacher: “Converse with your partner.” Answer the following prompt: “How did my partner and I use our conversation voice?” After 1 minute, bring students back to share-out.
  - Targeted Response: The teacher used a clear voice; one person spoke at a time as they took turns. One student mumbled, and it wasn’t as easy to understand what he/she said.

D. Listen Respectfully

- Say: The next norm is Listen Respectfully (point to Conversation Norms Poster). One way to let your partner know you are listening is to focus on your partner. Another way to let your partner know that you understood him/her is to restate what was said. This shows respectful listening and helps you better understand your partner.

- Demonstration: The teacher begins the conversation. The teacher nods and acknowledges once the student shares. After the student shares, the teacher restates what the student said with the following phrase: I heard you say...
  - Teacher: I noticed the children are putting ingredients in the bowl.
  - Student: Another thing I noticed is that the children are taking turns adding them.
  - Teacher: I heard you say that the children are taking turns adding the ingredients.
  - Student: Yes, and I also noticed that they look like they are having fun.

- Debrief:
  - Teacher: “Converse with your partner.” Answer the following prompt: “How did my partner and I listen respectfully?” After 1 minute, bring students back to share-out.
  - Targeted Response: The teacher used a clear voice; one person spoke at a time as they took turns, and the teacher restated what the student said.

E. Take turns and Build on Each Other’s Ideas

- Say: The next norm is Take Turns and Build on Each Other’s Ideas (point to the Conversation Norms Poster). In order to learn from each other, we have to share our best thinking. We listen carefully so we can add to and/or clarify our partner’s ideas. Taking turns is everyone’s responsibility. Remember the goal of constructive conversations is to learn from each other. This norm explicitly teaches partner collaboration.

NOTE: We would greatly appreciate your feedback in vetting these lessons through the following link:

• Demonstration: The teacher and a student volunteer read the provided script.

  Teacher: I think they are going to bake cookies. What do you notice?
  Student: I agree. I notice a bag of chocolate chips.
  Teacher: The boy standing up looks as if he is in charge.
  Student: Yes, he looks older and is helping the younger kids.

• Debrief:

  o Teacher: “Converse with your partner.” Answer the following prompt: “How did my partner and I take turns and build on each other’s ideas?”
    After 1 minute, bring students back to share-out.

  o Targeted Response: Each partner took a turn. The student added to the teacher’s idea and provided a new vocabulary word.

2. Hand gesture - CREATE

Introduce hand gesture for CREATE (teacher raises his/her hands over head and opens and closes hands as if an idea is coming out of his/her head).

• Say: When we CREATE ideas, “we share what we are thinking”.

3. Model and Non-Model for the skill CREATE

A. Introduce the Listening Task Poster

Teacher refers to Listening Task Poster - CREATE (Appendices D1, D2) and reads each step aloud. Note that there are two versions of the poster (Teacher and Student versions). TIP: Use Student Version during Independent Practice to reinforce gradual release of responsibility.

• Say: While you are listening to my partner and me, listen for the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Listening Task - CREATE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Did each partner state his or her ideas?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Did they take turns sharing their ideas?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Did they stay on topic?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Did they build on each other’s ideas?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B-1. Model

Teacher posts and introduces Model and Non-Model Visual Text (see Appendix G). Teacher introduces Model and asks for a student volunteer to be his/her partner. A copy of the Model (see Appendix E) is given to the student. Allow volunteer student time to read and review the script. Teacher then proceeds to model.

• Say: To model what a conversation sounds like, we are going to use a visual text and address the prompt: “What do you notice in the visual text?” Remember to use the Listening Task Poster.

- Demonstration: The teacher and student read the provided script.

  Teacher: There is a man killing a pig with an ax. I think that is his job. What is your idea?
  Student: Another idea is a man is helping him by getting the blood from the head of the pig that the first man cut off.

  Teacher: I think the man is called a butcher. The butcher cuts off the two legs and another man is taking the two legs inside. What else do you think is happening?
  Student: I think the people inside are going to buy the meat, or they are waiting so they can cook the two legs. What might be another point of view?

  Teacher: Another idea is there are two women who are helping. One woman is holding the pig so the butcher can cut off the legs. The other woman is holding the pan to collect the blood.
  Student: The two children wearing aprons are watching the others work. I think they too are helpers.

Teacher: Everyone helps, so I think it is a family event.
Student: I agree. Everyone helps so they can all eat.

- Debrief:
  - Teacher: Use the questions on the Listening Task Poster – CREATE to guide students through an analysis of what makes this a model Constructive Conversation. After each question, ask students: “How do you know?” and “What is your evidence?”
  - TIP: Use Student Version to reinforce gradual release of responsibility. After a few minutes, bring students back to share-out.
  - Targeted Response: Students should be able to identify where ideas were stated, turns were taken, topic was on point, and ideas were built upon.

B-2. Non-Model

Teacher introduces Non-Model and asks for a student volunteer to be his/her partner. A copy of the Non-Model (see Appendix F) is given to the student. Allow volunteer student time to read and review the script. Teacher then proceeds to model.

- Say: To model what a Non-Model conversation sounds like, we are going to use the same visual text and prompt: “What do you notice in the visual text?” While you are listening to my partner and me, listen for the following points. Refer to the Listening Task Poster - CREATE.
- Demonstration: The teacher and student read the provided script.
Teacher: He is killing an animal.
Student: The kids are scared.

Teacher: They cut off the legs.
Student: I see blood.

Teacher: I see a head cut off.
Student: There are people working.

Teacher: People are inside the house.
Student: I’m allergic to pork!

• Debrief:
  - Teacher: Use the questions on the Listening Task Poster – CREATE to guide students through an analysis of what makes this a Non-Model Constructive Conversation. After each question, ask students: “How do you know?” and “What is your evidence?” TIP: Use Student Version to reinforce gradual release of responsibility. After a few minutes, bring students back to share-out.
  - Targeted Response: Students should be able to identify where ideas were or were not stated, and whether or not turns were taken, topic was on point, and ideas were built upon.

4. Constructive Conversation Student Independent Practice

- Say: Now you will have an opportunity to practice the Constructive Conversation skill CREATE in pairs while following a protocol.
- Use a manipulative (i.e. talking chips, paper clips, Post-It notes, or some other item) to ensure turn taking.
- Display the Student Independent Practice Visual Text (see Appendix I).
- Hand out one Designated ELD Placemat (see Appendix H) to each pair of students.
- Students will only use the CREATE skill on the Constructive Conversation Placemat.
- Students will follow the protocol to participate in the Independent Practice.

TIP: Print placemat on card stock and insert into a sheet protector so it is reusable.

The protocol:
1. Each student will have four CREATE turns.
2. In pairs, students will use a manipulative to share their CREATE ideas. They will continue taking turns until all manipulatives are used.
3. If the students are done early, they repeat the process for an Using Talking Chips

1. Each student will have 4 talking chips to ensure 4 turns are taken.
2. To start a conversation, a student places the talking chip in the middle of the desk to indicate a turn taken.
3. Students use the language of the skill to open and close their turn. (See Language of the Skill under Conversation Norms)
4. The goal is to have all students take 4 turns and be left with no talking chips.
5. Language Sample (read Formative Assessment/Language Analysis Tools before starting)

After the students have completed the protocol, the teacher will select two students to model in front of the class. The teacher will collect a language sample from the two students on the Student Progress Form - Conversation Analysis Tool (SPF-CAT) (see Appendices J). The language sample must be at least four turns in frequency. Once the sample has been collected, the teacher transcribes it so it’s available to use on Day 3. TIP: Use your phone to record the Language Sample. See Release Form (Appendices K1, K2).

<th>Formative Assessments/Language Analysis Tools:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Student Progress Form - Conversation Analysis Tool (SPF-CAT) (see Appendix J)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Purpose of assessment:
The Student Progress Form Conversation Analysis Tool (SPF-CAT) is a language analysis tool that measures oral language output and interaction in two dimensions. Teachers get an opportunity to capture authentic student language and evaluate it. Student will analyze their own language output and have an opportunity to: 1) see their own language production, 2) revise it, and 3) have more opportunities to meet the target language. Teacher and students evaluate the academic language development growth across the California ELD Standards proficiency levels.

SPF Administration:
After independent practice, select a pair of students who are the most proficient from your class. Ask these students to repeat the process for the whole class. As they demonstrate their interaction to the class, the teacher uses this time to capture a language sample.

Note: In the SPF-CAT form, a language sample is a record of at least four turns in frequency.

This sample will be used to analyze the use of targeted language produced by the students. Students will revise their sample to attempt to meet the target language objectives. This metalinguistic approach and opportunity to understand how English works gives students an awareness of their language development growth across the proficiency levels of the California
ELD Standards.

Note: For Day 3’s lesson, students will analyze and revise the Non-Model and the language sample mentioned above.
