

What is Inclusion?

Inclusion is when students with disabilities spend most or all their time in the general education environment, participating with general education peers in the classroom, and taking part in the extracurricular life of the school. Inclusion is more than sitting in a general education class; it only is truly inclusion when a child is learning and meeting IEP goals with their typical peers. Inclusion is not the same as mainstreaming.

Additional Resources

- <https://www.thinkinclusive.us/inclusion-is-belonging/>
- <https://bit.ly/Florida-Inclusion>

The agencies and organizations that appear on this page do not constitute an endorsement of the Los Angeles Unified School District, Division of Special Education; nor should an exclusion of other websites be considered intentional. This page serves to provide awareness to students, teachers, and parents of additional information and services.

The opinions expressed on these pages are solely those of the host website and not necessarily those of the Los Angeles Unified School District, Division of Special Education. Any advertising presented on these pages is solely the responsibility of the host website and not the Los Angeles Unified School District. Additionally, references, links, products or services displayed by the websites are not to be considered endorsements of the Los Angeles Unified School District.