Introduction

Purpose
The Nestle Avenue Charter School community is in agreement to pursue the goal of becoming an affiliated charter school in the Los Angeles Unified School District.

Nestle Avenue Charter School intends to build on its identified strengths by adding to its existing research-based outstanding practices in instruction and governance. We plan to supplement the core curricula so we can continue to exceed the goals set by the state and LAUSD.

Nestle Avenue Charter School will infuse the instruction in every classroom with the enrichment theme of understanding the origin, history, and development of humans and their evolvement through the ages and across cultures leading to present accomplishments and projecting into the future.

Our school will continue to ensure the use of higher-order thinking skills, project-based learning, multiple intelligences, and multi-media literacy across the instructional day.

Nestle Avenue Charter School will use its increased autonomy to manage its budget resourcefully. We will continue our traditional collaboration among parents, teachers, administrators, and other staff in making financial decisions centered on our goal of fulfilling each student’s potential and educating the whole child.

Goals
Nestle Avenue Charter School will address the needs of the entire student population by meeting and exceeding the state’s standards. Teachers will, through differentiated instruction, utilize a variety of instructional techniques and programs appropriate to the special needs of our charter school’s population including the following:

- Use innovative teaching practices such as those described by Doug Lemov in Teach Like a Champion.

- Increase interactive, hands-on learning for all students to build conceptual understanding across all subjects.

- Expose and explore the history and origin of concepts across all subjects.

- Ensure all students score proficient and advanced on state assessments.

- Nurture and maintain the natural curiosity within our students.

- Establish the habits of mind to make students and adults lifelong learners.
Endorsements
The Nestle Avenue Charter School Governance Council has asked teachers, parents, staff, administrators and interested community members to be co-petitioners for the school’s charter petition for conversion to affiliated charter. These stakeholders have requested that the Board of Education for the Los Angeles Unified School District grant Nestle Avenue Charter School status as a charter school for the years 2013-2018 pursuant to the Charter Schools Act. The Nestle Avenue Governance Council and its co-petitioners have authorized the lead petitioners listed below to negotiate any amendments to the charter renewal document necessary to secure the approval of the Board of Education of the Los Angeles Unified School District. The lead petitioners are:

- Ibia Gomez, Principal
- Kathryn Cheuvront, Teacher
- Jennifer Stern, Teacher
- Paul Shelton, Teacher
- Heather Davis, Parent
- Darlene Yamauchi, Parent

The Charter Agreement/Contract
Nestle Avenue Charter School shall become an affiliated charter with the Los Angeles Unified School District under the terms of this charter. If, at any point, during the term of this charter, Nestle Avenue Charter elects to operate as a nonprofit public benefit corporation, or to become an independent charter school, then Nestle Avenue shall prepare and submit a new charter proposal to the Los Angeles Unified School District. While operating as an affiliated charter with the Los Angeles Unified School District, Nestle Avenue shall continue to be covered under the self insurance and property coverage program of the LAUSD as provided to all other schools in the Los Angeles Unified School District.

This charter school shall incorporate all revisions to the Charter Schools Act that may be enacted by the California State Legislature during the life of this charter.

Nestle Avenue Charter School will continue to be affiliated with the Los Angeles Unified School District and receive funding through the Categorical Block Grant Model which will be administered by LAUSD. As an affiliated charter, Nestle Avenue Charter School will refer to the ICSD business unit for purchasing specific services. While choosing not to separate from the District and to continue the use of LAUSD teachers, Nestle Avenue Charter will participate in District level professional development and school site level professional development as per Board recommendation and the LAUSD Policy on Charter School authorizing of the reciprocal sharing of professional and best practices.

Aligned with the culture of being an affiliated charter school within LAUSD, Nestle Avenue Charter will continue to look towards adopting LAUSD curriculum materials and LAUSD will continue to allocate to Nestle Avenue all the necessary financial resources for adopting curriculum materials only to the extent that similar allocation is to regular schools. Nestle Avenue Charter shall have site control of the categorical block grant in order to address the spirit and the mission of the charter.

The responsibility of categorical block grant shall fall upon the Nestle Avenue Governance Council and the control of the categorical block grant funds must address class size reduction, technology, professional development, enrichment opportunities, character education, intervention opportunities, supervision, and safety in order to meet our goals and the needs of our students.

It is understood that Nestle Avenue Charter will undergo at least a yearly Charter Oversight Review from the Los Angeles Unified School District as part of the charter contract with the District. Oversight also includes monitoring of the Charter School’s progress and attainment of measurable pupil outcomes, as well as adherence with all applicable laws and regulations, court orders, and the terms of the charter, and financial reporting requirements. Nestle Avenue Charter School will also expect that oversight shall include a review of the school’s performance in the areas of academic achievement, governance, organizational management, finance, and the attainment of applicable benchmarks as well as a review of adherence with applicable law, regulations, and the terms of the charter. It is also understood that the District will identify the school’s strengths, underdeveloped areas, develop specific goals to facilitate year-to-year oversight, and review the school’s self study process to facilitate school improvement. It is also understood that the Los Angeles Unified School District’s Policy on Charter School Authorizing is subject to change upon Board approval and with input from Charter School leaders. At any time, the LAUSD Innovation and Charter School’s Division can visit or call the school with inquiry on matters, policies or situations that may arise.

If granted, the term of this initial 5 year charter begins on August 14, 2012 and expires on June 30, 2017. To request a renewal of this charter petition beyond June 2017, Nestle Avenue Charter School will submit a new petition to the District for approval by January 31 2017.

Motto

We are fundamental to what matters.

What Does It Mean to Be an Educated Person in the 21st Century?

The educated person of the 21st century is open to diversity, technologically savvy, and readily able to decipher and analyze information. The process of being educated is constant; ongoing throughout one’s life, and as such requires self-motivation. The educated person also needs to have top-notch social skills, charisma, and the ability to see other sides of a situation. One challenge foremost in this century has been incorporating technology into the process of lifelong learning. Technology is important because society is moving in that direction with regards to social and academic discourse.

Since information in the 21st century travels fast, students need to be taught how to decipher it, respond to it quickly, if need be, and make decisions that will move them forward. As a new paradigm emerges in the world that is technologically driven, the education of our students needs to change with it. That being said, any detriment that could occur from constant interaction with technology should be self-monitored. Limiting this reliance in certain ways, even in terms of social media, keeps the educated person from becoming too dependent on the delivery of quick information, and thus able to retain knowledge and access it readily from memory.

Although in the future many members of society may inevitably work from home, people will still need to be able to cooperate and communicate well with others. Students may, in the future, be dependent on technology to learn daily lessons. However, an educated person needs to be a self-learner who is motivated; inquisitive enough to seek answers, does research, asks more questions, and has an idea regarding which direction to go for answers. Charisma and communication abilities will be important and desirable, as face-to-face interaction will continue to occur. Therefore, the educated person needs to be able to communicate with and present information to a group.

Students also need to be taught problem-solving skills without resorting immediately to technology. It is important that students learn to work together, whether technologically or in person. Social skills can be taught and fostered, along with the ability to communicate well. Deadlines need to be met in any type of society that moves forward, so scheduling time appropriately and wisely, using good time management skills, and making daily decisions are important to the 21st century learner.

The educated person of the 21st century requires sensitivity to various cultures, exhibits respect for others, and is open to the cultural diversity of the future. A person needs to be educated to understand the culture of another. Education can help to clear up misconceptions about one's fellow citizens by adding layers of understanding that will serve as a foundation for future social interactions.

The educated, successful person of the 21st century is a self-thinker, seeking knowledge on various subjects, taking in and analyzing information, and forming opinions. This person is able to discourse on many subjects and continually adds to his or her formal education. The educated person interacts responsibly with the environment, takes steps to appreciate and protect the arts, and makes healthy choices not only for personal benefit but for the greater good of society.

How Learning Best Occurs

Learning best occurs for students when the environment provides quality instruction, ample discussion, and active participation by “doing.” Whole and small group discussion, cooperative learning, and application of what has been learned or discussed takes place on a daily basis. The learning environment of a school fosters thinking and creating and is supported by relevant objects that have been provided for students to see, touch, and feel.

The thoughts, ideas, and feelings of students are validated in the classroom and around school. Active participation is ensured, strengths are broadened, and areas of need are identified. All students engage in exploration, see connections, work individually and cooperatively, and are encouraged to excel beyond standards. As Eric Jensen states in Teaching with the Brain in Mind, “Start by removing threats from the learning environment.” (p. 30)

Teachers work collaboratively, share best practices, and incorporate differentiated instruction based on the needs of their students. Educators grow through professional development, exposure to new and research based practices, and high expectations of the principal, who is an involved and supportive instructional leader. Scholarly behavior is cultivated through the examination and modeling of concepts and traits.

The principal and staff empower school community members to be constant and positive forces in the education of their children. Families are involved in quality learning experiences through events such as Back-to-School Night, Math and Science Night, and Literacy Night. Our Parent Center offers educational presentations, and parents are invited to help with school projects and other classroom needs. Encouraged participation in these activities helps to ensure a well-rounded basis of learning for students by keeping parents informed about the school’s educational program, and giving them the tools to support their child’s learning. Having parents understand they are an integral part of their child’s education provides a foundation of lifelong learning.

Nestle Avenue Charter School incorporates a “Parent-Teacher-Student Compact” signed by teachers, students, and families to foster learning in a safe, mutually respectful classroom environment where children:

- Actively participate in their learning
- Have strengths broadened, extended, and developed
- Have areas of need identified, addressed, and strengthened (ongoing progress monitoring)
- Engage in experimentation, exploration, and discovery
- See the connections between what they learn and the world around them
- Work both individually and cooperatively as members of a group
- Are encouraged to excel beyond the standards-based curriculum
- Benefit from collaboration across various subject areas

How the Goals of the Program Enable Students to Be Self-Motivated, Competent, Lifelong Learners

According to The Dirt on Learning, “Learning occurs best when learners enjoy the process. Learning is effective when it creates learner appetite for more learning and an insatiable desire to share the learning with others (Schultz & Schultz 46).” When we as educators provide an engaging educational program, students believe learning is fun, and enjoyment of the educational process encourages them to explore and learn other concepts. An eagerness to learn is fostered through exciting opportunities that connect past learning to new concepts. The instructional program at Nestle Avenue Charter School is based on the Common Core Standards. With this as our foundation, we create authentic assessments that involve students in real-world application. Meaningful feedback, taking responsibility for one’s own learning, and rigorous academic expectations all play a part in enabling students to become competent and lifelong learners.
Arts appreciation and expression are included in the education of Nestle students. Math and Science Night and NASA Explorer School events such as Rocket Day help to promote learning through exploration. The types of hands-on learning experiences inherent in these activities also foster lifelong learning that is shared with families. Technology continues to be incorporated into the curriculum, helping students to deepen their understanding of concepts and refine their skills. Having technological competence is an integral part of preparing students for their life as learners in the 21st century. Ample opportunities to do research and see visual and creative presentations are excellent ways to keep learning interesting and engaging.

Nestle educators create motivation and confidence by providing students with successful educational experiences and directing their sights on future academic goals and milestones such as middle school, high school, and college. Ongoing social work that promotes the greater good of society through involvement in local and global causes like clothes and food drives and other fundraising efforts connect our learners with the world outside the school walls. Students and their families are involved in donating reading materials for others, using programs such as Project Goodness to raise funds and provide awareness of organizations like Operation Smile, and supporting other community service learning programs. Educators, students, and families also work hand in hand on school beautification programs to enhance their immediate surroundings.

All of these opportunities serve to motivate the students to investigate further and learn about the world around them and how they fit in. Realizing that one’s own competence, knowledge, and expertise can be the basis for the welfare and success of another person or group is a powerful tool that keeps students curious about the world around them. Fitting into that world and having a positive impact on it is a goal for all students at Nestle.

A Walk Through Nestle on a Typical Day
Nestle Avenue School opened its doors in 1951 and recognized its 60th anniversary last November. From its inception to the present, the Nestle Avenue family has provided a rigorous learning environment that also promotes creativity and community spirit.

When visitors approach the front entrance to Nestle Avenue School, they are greeted by the awesome sight of a towering sycamore tree that pre-dates the construction of the campus. Upon entering the office, visitors are met by a friendly and knowledgeable staff that is eager to assist.

Continuing into the school grounds, visitors find themselves in the quad area, which serves as a central hub for Nestle Avenue’s campus. The grassy quad area is lined with smaller sycamore trees that mirror the larger one standing guard out front. The coziness of this area is the perfect backdrop for assemblies, carnivals, Halloween parades, and simply finding a shady spot to read a good book.

The quad area also served as the stage for Nestle Avenue’s 60th anniversary celebration, where alumni, school officials, the entire student body, parents, teachers, and staff came together to commemorate this momentous event. Nestle Avenue School has seamlessly bridged the past and the present. Having grown in size over the last six decades, our school population reflects our multicultural neighborhood. Our students represent over 25 cultures and languages, with diverse values, beliefs, and customs.

From the quad area, visitors are sure to notice colorful murals, most of which were designed by our own teachers and created by Nestle students! Some of the murals of planets and other celestial bodies reflect Nestle Avenue School’s collaboration with NASA and Jet Propulsion Laboratory as a NASA Explorer School. Other murals welcome visitors to read in the Wonder of Reading library or to eat healthy snacks in the cafeteria alongside giant vegetables. Large banners also reflect our school rules: Be Safe, Be Respectful, Be Responsible!

As visitors head to the playground, they see a huge, park-size apparatus obtained by a grant written by our dedicated staff. The blacktop is also flanked with handball, tetherball, volleyball, and basketball courts. It is hard to miss the lush green field outlined with trees used for baseball, soccer, other sports, and the highly-anticipated annual teachers versus fifth graders softball game. The playground is also the setting for school wide events like Rocket Day, Jump for Heart, the Health Fair, and Walk-a-thon.

Our physical education teacher uses the playground to work with students on standards-based skills. At other times of the week, general education teachers, parent volunteers, and aides continue to assist in developing those skills during our psychomotor program. These physical activities are an important component of our goal to guide our students to develop healthy minds and bodies.

Off to one side of the playground is our garden. The pre-k and Special Day Program (SDP) classes are in charge of our garden, with parents providing the supplies and support. Students clamor to plant and water the flowers and trees. Additionally, the garden is home to a mini-farm where rabbits and chickens are raised. Learning about life sciences has never been more hands-on!

Next, you may walk back to the cafeteria area and into our newly renovated auditorium, which is used by our Theater Arts, Dance, and Music teachers. Teachers also conduct awards ceremonies and grade-level parent meetings here. The auditorium is the ideal location for the PTA-sponsored book drive and annual talent show. Before leaving the auditorium, visitors will see a portrait of Ange DiNardo, who volunteered at Nestle Avenue School for over 40 years. The dedication ceremony in 1998 commemorating her years of service sums up the integral and esteemed role that community members have at our school. The Parent Center, which is a short stroll down the yard, is an extension of this volunteerism. Visitors can join our volunteer parents who are busy copying, collating, cutting, drawing, and carrying on a myriad other activities to support our teachers and PTA.

When visitors venture into any classroom, they see students eagerly engaged in learning. The students’ work areas are well-organized and carefully planned, inviting and accessible. Teacher assistants, under the direction of the classroom teacher, can be seen assisting with instruction and promoting student learning on a daily basis. In every classroom, students can be seen working independently, with partners, in small groups, or as a whole group depending on the needs of disparate learners. Students are engaged in rigorous, standards-based instruction with teachers who explicitly define and articulate the state and national standards that students are expected to meet and exceed. Students participate in hands-on cooperative learning, use manipulatives, and are involved in project-based learning with differentiated instruction. Each classroom displays a variety of student work that reflects current standards being taught and shows flexibility in how students can demonstrate their understanding.

Nestle Avenue School’s priority is to expand technology. We recently purchased a portable computer cart with 30 laptops. The online access allows students and teachers to explore the enVision Math series and California Treasures reading program. Students are often found in front of a computer using the Accelerated Reader program earning points toward a reading trophy. The use of document cameras makes lessons more engaging and colorful. Lucky visitors may see the students absorbed in an interactive computer lesson or on a video conference with astronauts.

Each classroom is unique, but the spirit of cooperation permeates through the walls. You may witness our RSP teacher working in collaboration with general education teachers to support students with special needs. That cooperation among teachers and support staff is an integral part of our Walk to Differentiation program, which is our version of Response to Instruction and Intervention. Based on Susan L. Hall’s model described in her book Jumpstart RTI, this model incorporates all teachers within a grade level, along with the resource teacher, and an additional intervention teacher to provide leveled instruction to meet the needs of students from remediation to enrichment. In addition, grade-level teachers work toward a mutual purpose. Team teaching is prevalent in the upper grades, and the collaboration of ideas is reflected in shared assignments, criteria charts, and projects.

Our entire school community takes pride in beautifying our outdoor areas by cleaning, pruning, and planting during our annual School Sparkle Day.
result of this hard work, our school has won the District 1 School Beautification award several years in a row.

As visitors leave our school, they will realize that our campus is quite beautiful on the outside, but that does not compare to the dedication, heart, creativity, and hard work of all our stakeholders behind the scenes, who make Nestle Avenue School an ideal learning community.

Instructional Framework

All components of the Nestle Avenue Charter School’s curriculum plan conform to the instructional frameworks for California public schools. As our state transitions to the adoption of the common core state standards, so will Nestle Avenue Charter School. Our instruction will be based on well researched programs and will include examination of assessments and data to drive student learning.

Our school year begins with an in-depth examination of data from the California Standards Test (CST) to identify trends within skills and standards, to identify strengths and challenges demonstrated by our student population, and to target students in need or at risk who will benefit from any of the three tiers of intervention. This includes all subgroups of student learners: at risk, special needs, socioeconomically disadvantaged, English Learners, gifted and talented students, subgroups by ethnicity, and students with IEPs and Section 504 plans.

Lauren Resnick’s Nine Principles of Learning provide the driving force that guides instruction at Nestle Avenue Charter School. We provide critical thinking strategies through Bloom’s Taxonomy, depth and complexity through the theories and practices of Dr. Sandra Kaplan, scaffolded support through Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE), patterns of organizational thinking through Thinking Maps, and other types of differentiated instruction, including compacting, acceleration, and novelty. Meeting the needs of the whole child requires an understanding that people learn in different ways, and learn best when provided instruction in their dominant learning style as best described by Dr. Howard Gardner’s Theory of Multiple Intelligences.

Commitment to Lauren Resnick’s Principles of Learning is evident in all classrooms. Organizing for Effort, we embrace Dr. Resnick’s belief that, “An effort-based school replaces the assumption that aptitude determines what and how much students learn with the assumption that sustained and directed effort can yield high achievement for all students. Clear Expectations are set through the application of rubrics and criteria charts. The establishment of clear expectations then leads to Fair and Credible Evaluations that students and parents can understand and for which students can prepare and parents can support. Academic Rigor in a Thinking Curriculum is apparent through the use of depth and complexity as well as adherence to the teaching of the standards and big ideas and concepts. Accountable Talk compels the students to use the language of the discipline, while they learn to set and achieve goals using self-evaluation. When our teachers use Thinking Maps, problem-solving techniques, and accountable talk, they are teaching and establishing the habits of mind students need to internalize in order to be able to fully utilize their intelligence. Part of that training is students learning to self-monitor/manage their learning and learning to be responsible learners through Self-Management of Learning. Our teachers help students by modeling effective thinking and by creating the opportunities for students to learn from each other through projects and presentations, which Dr. Resnick calls Learning as Apprenticeship. Recognition of Accomplishments takes place monthly during our Citizenship and Academic Awards assemblies.

Nestle Ave. Charter will continue to expand its use of Sandra Kaplan’s icons for depth and complexity. These include big ideas, multiple perspectives, patterns, trends, rules, details, ethics, changes over time, language of the discipline, unanswered questions, across disciplines, origins, contributions, paradox, and parallels. These higher level prompts are applied as students discuss, write, and read across the curriculum and are integrated into instruction, projects, and assignments. Dr. Kaplan’s idea of “origin” is the central focus of our program and will permeate the way our students are introduced to new concepts.

The six levels of questioning in Bloom’s Taxonomy complement the acquisition and application of higher level thinking. Levels progress from simple to complex and include knowledge, comprehension, application, analysis, synthesis, and application. Teachers utilize these six levels when developing assignments in order to meet the varying needs of developing students. In time, students internalize and master these levels until they can use them independently and with ease.

SDAIE is a teaching approach geared for English language learners. It is intended for teaching any academic subject by carefully choosing content, connecting grade level themes to students and their previous learning, making oral and written language comprehensible through essential language forms and functions, realia, and target vocabulary, and through frequent interaction between students and teacher.

Consistent use of Thinking Maps provides students with the visual basis for organized thinking. This tool helps students gain a deeper understanding and the ability to communicate abstract concepts. Increased metacognition, self-assessment, and the application of these skills across the curriculum are other benefits to using Thinking Maps.

Differentiating instruction is imperative in meeting the needs of our diverse students. In order to eliminate repetition of already mastered skills, teachers use pre-assessment to determine how to compact and accelerate the lessons to provide time for more challenging interest-based projects.
In educating the whole child, Nestle Avenue Charter School teachers adhere to the tenets of Dr. Howard Gardner’s Theories of Multiple Intelligences. It is important to be cognizant of and attend to the varied intelligences of our students. According to Gardner, intelligence is “the ability to create an effective product that is valued in a culture; a set of skills that make it possible for a person to solve problems in life; the potential for finding or creating solutions for problems which involves gathering new knowledge.” (pbs.org). Additionally, he believed, “…that the brain has evolved over millions of years to be responsive to different kinds of content in the world; language content, musical content, spatial content, numerical content, etc.” Application of these theories can be seen through direct instruction, projects, group work, and independent study across the curriculum.

The Teaching Methodologies
All components of the Nestle Avenue Charter School's Plan conform to the California Department of Education Curriculum Frameworks. All instruction will be standards based and assessed by the California Standards Tests as scheduled by the Department of Education and Los Angeles Unified School District.

Teachers at Nestle Avenue Charter School research best learning practices, participate in external professional development, and share acquired information at school based professional developments.

Academic Rigor - Teachers design lessons that are engaging and meaningful. Students are held accountable for developing a firm understanding of the connection between thinking and knowledge. Our methodologies encourage students to gain a deep understanding of topics and concepts and to maintain a high level of achievement. Rigor is achieved through constant evaluation of our learning results and acceleration of learning where appropriate.

Clear Expectations - Teachers explicitly define and articulate the state standards in student friendly language. Descriptive criteria and models of work that elaborate these standards are displayed in every classroom, as well as in the Daily Instructional Focus.

Collaborative Groupings - Teachers create flexible small groups in order for students to interact with their peers on various levels. Students share their thinking processes to maximize learning. Cooperative groups promote diverse perspectives, student-centered learning, and teamwork. Collaborative groupings also allow for increased affective and psycho-social growth and the development of multiple intelligences. This allows teachers to make observations and assess students while facilitating their work.

Criteria Charts and Rubrics - These tools help focus students to effectively meet and exceed expectations and objectives of the assignment. Charts and rubrics are based on curricular standards and allow students to understand and evaluate their own work. When students fully understand what is asked of them they can reach their full potential towards mastery of the standards. Rubrics and criteria charts also give teachers an objective measurement tool to accurately rate student achievement.

Direct instruction - Teachers provide strategically planned direct instruction using multiple modalities including the infusion of technology. Direct instruction provides explicit direction and focus to students to meet and exceed the grade level standards.

Guided and Independent Practice - Teachers provide their students with ample time and resources to practice and incorporate what they have learned. Guided practice is a transitional scaffold that prepares students for independent practice. Students will achieve at a high level when they are given the time, resources, and strategies for working independently.

Small Group Instruction - Teachers create flexible small groupings to target individual student needs. Groupings target everything from specific language acquisition needs to specific concepts for the gifted and high achieving students.

Differentiated Instruction - The diversity of the student body makes it necessary and highly effective for teachers to plan differentiated lessons based on the needs of the sub-groups present at the school. Teachers utilize the core curriculum and supplement with materials and methods specific to the goals of the lesson concepts taught.

Higher-Level Thinking - To develop a truly rigorous, innovative, and engaging curriculum, teachers plan lessons and activities that incorporate many higher level thinking skills. Teachers use the core curriculum and materials along with project based learning to help students demonstrate skills such as analysis, synthesis, and application.

Integration of the Arts - The Arts are an important component of our school. Teachers use visual arts, theater, music, and dance to deepen and enhance the core curriculum.

Experiential Learning - Students participate in a variety of direct experiences in order to enhance their comprehension and appreciation for the curriculum. Field trips, plays, science labs, simulations, experiments, and real world presentations all provide rich experiences for students to gain conceptual knowledge.

By adhering to the instructional frameworks and teaching methodologies proposed, Nestle Avenue Charter School will meet the needs of all students including Gifted and Talented, English Language Learners, Socio-Economically Disadvantaged, Students with IEPs, and General Education students.
How Teaching Methodologies and Instructional Program Address the Needs of the Targeted Student Population

Nestle Avenue Charter School will address the needs of the entire student population by meeting and exceeding the state’s standards. Teachers will, through differentiated instruction, utilize a variety of instructional programs appropriate to the special needs of the charter’s population.

Academically Low Achieving Learners

Nestle is committed to maximizing the learning potential for low achieving students. High expectations are held for all of our students, and students who are identified as low achieving receive all of the additional scaffolding, resources and strategies at our disposal to address the particular, individual needs of low achieving students. Nestle firmly believes that our students are capable of succeeding. This is realized by providing multiple opportunities and pathways for low achieving students to access the curriculum, make it comprehensible, and improve their potential for achievement. Nestle identifies all low achieving students and monitors their progress on a periodic basis. Primary students are assessed using an array of assessments; including but not limited to grade-level created and commercially available performance assessments, diagnostic assessments, formative and summative assessments to identify specific areas of needs. Nestle’s Learning Center is staffed with a full time teacher. In addition, our intervention coordinator works directly with classroom teachers to provide in-class support for small groups and intervention outside of the classroom. Low achieving students also receive small group instruction, hands-on activities, and differentiation. Low achieving students receive support from a weekly afterschool tutoring program. Student Success Team (SST) meetings are held with their classroom teacher, parent, Intervention Coordinator and administrator. Together the team helps gather information, identify needs and create a plan to help the student access the curriculum. Our goal is to have every student performing at the proficient level and striving for advanced.

Gifted/Talented Students

We are committed to engaging in comprehensive strategies for all students enrolled at Nestle Avenue Charter School. Students are identified as gifted/talented via CST scores and OLSAT 8 scores, and assessments administered by District psychologists. Students in 4th and 5th grades may also be identified in a single subject area. Teachers provide GATE students with lessons and assignments that encourage the students to strengthen their cognitive thinking skills and creativity. Curriculum is differentiated by the classroom teacher and professional development opportunities to meet the needs of the gifted students are done on a yearly basis. Students identified as gifted are instructed using strategies from, but not limited to, Sandra Kaplan’s depth and complexity, thinking maps, and Bloom’s Taxonomy. Furthermore, Nestle’s partnership with NASA allows teachers to use webcasts and video conferencing technology to help extend curriculum. Students are asked to demonstrate their comprehension and thorough knowledge of each subject by defining, describing and identifying what they have learned through analysis and synthesis of this information. Additionally, the students will present an outcome whether verbal, written, arts-based, or technology-based at their appropriate academic level. All identified students are assessed on a yearly basis using the LAUSD assessment tools and files are maintained by the classroom teacher in the students’ CUM folders.

Socioeconomically Disadvantaged Students (SED)

Forty-seven percent of Nestle’s student population qualifies for free or reduced priced meals. Of these students 65.5% are scoring in the proficient to advanced range on the ELA portion of the CST, compared to 44% in LAUSD with the same achievement. In mathematics, 76.9% of Nestle economically disadvantaged students scored in the proficient to advanced range in comparison to just 43% in LAUSD scoring the same proficiencies. Nestle supports socioeconomically disadvantaged students through intervention (if needed), field trips, and access to technology. Nestle Avenue Charter School will continue to ensure that all students are provided with the necessary tools and nutrition to succeed academically and socially. In addition, PTA supports funding for various activities during school. Inability to donate will not mean exclusion from activities. Our goal is success of all students, regardless of economic status or advantage.

English Language Learners

Nestle currently uses the LAUSD Master Plan for English Language Learners to provide opportunities for non-English speaking students to become fluent in and literate in English. Teachers will use the California Treasures English Language Development Program to allow all students the opportunity to perform the comprehension of the content in a format that exhibits their understanding of the lesson. We will continue to reclassify all students as they meet district criteria.

Every student that enrolls at Nestle receives a Home Language Survey included in the enrollment package. Based on the response to the Home Language Survey, the students will be assessed using the CELDT to determine possible identification and eligibility for EL services. Parents are informed of the Master Plan instruction program options and are then able to select a program by completing the “Initial Assessment of Home Language Results and Confirmation of Program Placement” form. English Learners are grouped according to the LAUSD Master Plan guidelines. Students receive daily district mandated minutes of ELD instruction. EL students receive small group instruction, home-language assistance from teachers and aides, and hands-on activities. Additionally, Nestle’s newest EL students are enrolled in the Imagine Learning Online Program to further help these newcomers learn the English language while being supported via their home language. The progress of the EL children is monitored through the use of ELD portfolios and a yearly CELDT examination.
When the child progresses through the 5 levels of ELD, earns scores of 3 or 4 on Progress Reports, and scores Basic on the ELA portion of the CST, the child is ready for reclassification. The Language Appraisal Team evaluates candidates and gets input from the parent and then recommends them for reclassification. Parents are notified that their child has successfully completed the ESL criteria. All RFEP students are monitored for two years after redesignation. The Categorical Program Advisor is responsible for EL monitoring and updating English Learners SIS data.

General Educational Population will meet and exceed the state standards/benchmarks through the lessons being taught, and we will provide the opportunity to participate in differentiated lessons.

Evidence That the Proposed Instructional Program Will be Successful with the Charter’s Targeted Population

Nestle maintains a high level of achievement with its student population. Our proposed instructional program will be successful at Nestle Avenue Charter School’s because it is based on the current effective practices we implement. With a focus on best strategies in the instructional program, Nestle Avenue’s API has met district/state goals for the past five years. The API for 2010-2011 was 886. Over the past three years, our API has grown from 860 to 886. Nestle Avenue is rated 8 out of 10 on the California Statewide ranking. Last year, 33% of the English Language Learner population reclassified by the end of year. Teachers utilize ongoing assessments, collaboration, the English Language Development program, and Walk to Differentiation approaches to ensure our ELL students progress in a solid foundation of reading, writing, listening and speaking. Nestle Avenue Charter School has met and in most cases exceeded district mandates.

All teachers, with direction from administration, adhere to each individual student’s IEP, as well as conduct SSTs (Student Success Teams) for students who are not making unsatisfactory progress in academics, work habits, or behavior. SST meetings recognize the RTI approach, in terms of assisting teachers to attempt a hierarchy of intervention strategies with the goal of enabling struggling students to meet grade-level standards. Nestle’s fall 2011 District Validation Review (DVR) score was 100 % in Least Restrictive Environment Instructional Practices. 100 % of instructional accommodations in the general education setting were found to be implemented. This evidence shows that our special education teams are meeting the needs of special education students. Although we are only required to have 51% of our special needs students in the general education setting for 40% or more of the instructional day, we have 100% of our students meeting this goal.

We are dedicated to identifying and addressing the needs of our gifted and talented and high achieving population by incorporating experiential learning and differentiated planning into daily instruction. As a result, 14% GATE identification is higher in comparison to the district’s norm of 6%. Each year, teachers offer a... challenging daily program of standards-based and differentiated instruction to give our students an opportunity to meet and exceed their levels of proficiency.
All of Nestle’s identified GATE students score proficient or advanced on the CST.

An integral part of Nestle Avenue Charter School’s instructional program is a dedication to providing enriching experiences throughout the core curriculum.
Nestle teaching staff, together with professional experts in science, language arts, math, social studies, the arts, and technology, infuse excitement, motivation, and high interest into the learning experiences of each and every child. Project-based learning plays a large role in the success of our population.

Special Education

Special Education Students will be mainstreamed, if applicable pursuant to their IEP, and given the opportunities to perform knowledge of content in a multi-modality format that exhibits their understanding of the lesson. Although we are only required to have 51% of our special needs students in the general education setting for 40% or more of the instructional day, we have 100% of our students meeting this goal.

Nestle Avenue's special education population benefits from the wide variety of materials and methods used by teachers that are specifically selected to help them meet the grade-level standards.

The District shall continue to serve the needs of special education students enrolled in the affiliated Charter Schools in the same manner as at any other public school of the District, and shall be responsible for meeting all the requirements of the Modified Consent Decree.

Conversion Affiliated Charter

Nestle Charter School will support movement of students with disabilities into less restrictive environments and increase interactions of students with disabilities with non-disabled students. The Charter School general program of instruction for students with disabilities shall be responsive to the required sequence of courses and related curricular activities provided for all students in the Charter School. Assessment and standardized testing procedures shall be implemented, including guidelines for modifications and adaptations, to monitor student progress.

1. Charter School Special Education Responsibilities

   a. General Requirements

   The Charter School will adhere to the provisions of the IDEA and California special education laws and regulations to assure that all students with disabilities are accorded a free appropriate public education ("FAPE"). The Charter School will also ensure that no student otherwise eligible to enroll in their Charter School will be denied enrollment on the basis of their special education status.

The Charter School will comply with Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and all Office of Civil Rights mandates for students enrolled in the Charter School.

The Charter School will adhere to the requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree and court orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education and will submit documents and information, participate in reviews, and attend informational sessions and meetings at the District’s request. The Charter School will use District forms to develop, maintain, and review assessments and Individualized Education Programs (“IEPs”) in the format required by the District and will enter accurate assessment and IEP data into the District’s designated data system (Welligent) in accordance with LAUSD policies and procedures. The Charter School will maintain copies of assessments and IEP materials for District review. The Charter School will submit to the District all required reports, including but not limited to CASEMIS, SESAC and Welligent IEPs, in a timely manner as necessary to comply with state and federal and Modified Consent Decree requirements.

The Charter School shall keep daily attendance for each student which shall be reported and certified according to District policies and procedures.

The Charter School will participate in the state quality assurance process for special education (i.e. verification reviews, coordinated compliance self-reviews, complaints monitoring, procedural safeguards, and the local plan). The Charter School will participate in internal validation review (“DVR”).

The Charter School is responsible for the management of its, personnel, programs and services. The Charter School will ensure that its special education personnel or contracted personnel are appropriately credentialed, licensed or on waiver consistent with California laws and regulations.

The Charter School will implement the programs and services, including providing related services, required by the IEPs of the students enrolled at the Charter School.

b. Transferring Students
For students transferring to the Charter School from District schools or District affiliated charter schools, the Charter School will provide those related services required by the students’ IEPs immediately upon the students’ enrollment.

For students transferring to the Charter School from other school districts, the Charter School shall provide related services required by the students’ IEPs upon the students’ enrollment regardless of the type of service provider (school, NPA or private). IEP team meetings for such students will be held within thirty (30) days of the student’s enrollment in accordance with state and federal law.

c. Assessments

The referral process shall include Student Success Team (SST) meetings to review prior interventions, accommodations and modifications and to recommend further interventions as appropriate. The referral process shall be supported by the Response to Intervention (RtI) model approach using data to identify student strengths and weaknesses. Upon review of accumulated data, observation and review of records, the Charter School may determine that assessment is necessary to determine possible eligibility for special education programs and related services.

Upon a parent’s request for assessment, the Charter School will convene a meeting to review and discuss the request in light of student records, acquired data and student performance to agree with or deny the request for assessment. If the Charter School determines that assessment for special education eligibility is not warranted, prior written notice must be given to the parent/guardian with a clear rationale for such refusal within 15 days of the request. If the Charter School concludes that there are suspected disabilities, the school must develop an assessment plan for each student with suspected disabilities within the 15 day timeline. The assessment plan will describe the types of assessments that may be used to determine the eligibility of students for special education instruction and services. Assessments will be conducted, within legal timelines, after receiving the parents’ written consent. The Charter School shall conduct an IEP team meeting that includes required team members within mandated timelines for each student assessed to discuss results, determine eligibility, and (if eligible) specify special education instruction and services. The Charter School will make decisions regarding eligibility, goals, program, placement, and exit from special education through the IEP process according to federal, state and District timelines.

d. Alternative Placements
In the event that the Charter School is unable to provide an appropriate placement or services for a student with special needs, the Charter School will contact the District to discuss placement and service alternatives. Charter schools are expected to provide services to all enrolled students with disabilities (mild to severe). If an Individualized Education Program (IEP) team that includes Charter School personnel places a student in a special education program provided by another entity, the Charter School will be fully responsible for the quality of the program and for any costs incurred for such a placement.

e. Least Restrictive Environment

Instructional strategies and curriculum adaptations to address the diverse learner, and interaction with non-disabled peers.

The Charter School will maintain responsibility for monitoring progress towards IEP goals for the student with special needs. The Charter School will assess, develop, and implement Individual Transition Plans to help students with disabilities transition to adult living in accordance with District policies and procedures.

f. Staffing Requirements

The Charter School shall participate in available appropriate District trainings to support access by students with disabilities to the general education classroom, general education curriculum, integration of student in the general education setting.

g. Student Discipline/Inclusion

The Charter School will ensure that it makes the necessary adjustments to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including the IDEA regarding discipline of students with disabilities. Discipline procedures will include positive behavioral interventions and the District's Discipline Foundation Policy. Prior to recommending expulsion and/or prior to the eleventh day of cumulative suspension for a student with disabilities, the Charter School will convene a manifestation determination IEP that includes District representation as set forth in the District's Policies and Procedures Manual. The Charter School will collect data pertaining to the number of special education students suspended or expelled.

The Charter is committed to achieving population balance that includes students with disabilities. The Charter will conduct outreach activities to attract and enroll a range of mild to severe special education students that is diverse and comparable with resident schools with similar demographics. The current District-wide average percentage of students with disabilities is 10-13%. The Charter School’s outreach efforts should be geared toward aligning with the District-wide average. The Charter
School may not refuse to admit a student based on special education eligibility, needs or services identified in the student’s IEP. The District will provide the Charter with MCD reports indicating range of services and number of students served at individual Charter Schools.

2. Procedural Safeguards/Due Process Hearings

The District may invoke dispute resolution provisions set out in the charter petition, initiate due process hearings, and/or utilize other procedures applicable to the Charter School if the District determines that such action is legally necessary to ensure compliance with federal and state special education laws and regulations or the Modified Consent Decree.

In the event that a parent or guardian of a student attending the Charter School initiates due process proceedings, both the Charter School and the District will be named as respondents. Whenever possible, the District and the Charter School shall work together in an attempt to resolve the matter at an early stage (informal settlement or mediation).

3. Complaints

The District will investigate and respond to all special education complaints the District receives pertaining to the Charter Schools including the District’s Uniform Complaint Procedures, Office for Civil Rights and California Department of Education Special Education Compliance Complaints. The Charter School will cooperate with the District in any such investigations and provide the District with any and all documentation that is needed to respond to complaints.

4. Funding of Special Education

The Charter School will adhere to all District policies and procedures regarding special education and special education funding, as they may be amended from time to time. The District shall retain all state and federal special education funding for charter school students which is allocated to the SELPA. The District shall be responsible for providing all appropriate special education and related services in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws. The Charter School will contribute their fair share of SELPA-wide unfunded special education costs from their general purpose block grant monies.

5. District Responsibilities Relating to Charter School Special Education Program

As long as Charter Schools operate as public schools within the District, the District shall provide information to the school regarding District special education decisions, policies, and procedures to the same extent as they are provided to other schools within the District.

To the extent that the District provides training opportunities and/or information regarding special education to other school site staff, such opportunities and/or information shall be made available to Charter School staff.

Modified Consent Decree Requirements

All Charter Schools chartered by the Los Angeles Unified School District (“LAUSD or the District”) Governing Board are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree (“MCD”) and other court orders imposed upon District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes eighteen statically measureable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District’s Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online IEPs and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District’s obligations under the Modified Consent Decree, data requests from charter schools that are not connected to the District’s current Student Information Systems (“SIS”) are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor’s required format and are as follows:

- The Independent Charter School Suspension/Expulsion Report, due monthly throughout the school year.
- Paper SESAC Report and Welligent Student Listing Verification, due monthly throughout the school year.
- CBEDS, which is due at the end of October of Each School Year.
- All Students Enrolled December 1 of Each School Year, due at the end of December every school year.
- Graduation Status of 12th Grade Students Enrolled on December 1, due at the end of June every school year.

The District is currently in the process of developing an Integrated Student Information System (“ISIS”) as required by the MCD. Although most charter schools are not currently utilizing the District’s current SIS, the MCD requires all charter schools to implement the use of ISIS once it is developed.

Textbooks and Other Resources

Language Arts:
Nestle Ave. Charter School will provide its students with a rigorous curriculum that assists all students in meeting or exceeding the Common Core State Standards for language arts K-5. We will develop students’ reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills to support academics across the curriculum by using the district approved reading program California Treasures, Core Literature, Student Treasures, Walk to Differentiation, incorporate Theater Arts, Accelerated Reader incentive program, projects and book reports, and participate in Read Across America and other motivational programs.

How the School Will Recruit Teachers Qualified to Deliver the Proposed Instructional Program
Teachers will be recruited in accordance with district policy, procedures, and collective bargaining agreements. Teacher staff will be asked to submit an application in accordance with Personnel Commission and district policies.

How the School Will Provide On-going Professional Development
The teachers and the administrators at Nestle Ave. Charter School plan the professional development schedule at the start of each year. It is created according to the identified needs in the instructional program. There are topics covered each month – language arts, mathematics, science, and ELD. Other topics also included are art, depth & complexity, discipline, and special education.

We find presenters for our professional development days in a multitude of ways. There is an extraordinary knowledge and expertise base among our faculty so we regularly allow teachers to share best practices. There may be times when an outside presenter is invited to our school or the faculty may attend a PD at another neighboring school. We also tap into web-based trainings for programs such as Accelerated Reader, EnVision, and Treasures.

Nestle Avenue Charter School makes sure to train its staff in all District initiatives that may include ELD, reading/language arts, RTI, discipline, etc. In such cases, the school sends volunteers for training who come back to the school to train the rest of the faculty/staff.

Academic Calendar

Nestle Avenue Charter School will follow the LAUSD calendar with 180 days of instruction in an academic year. Nestle will file a minimum and shortened day schedule with the local district superintendent on a yearly basis as done by all District schools. The Bell Schedule adheres to LAUSD and California Ed Code minimum number of minutes, as set forth in E.C. 47612.5.

Element 2: Measurable Student Outcomes

“The measurable pupil outcomes identified for use by the charter school. ‘Pupil outcomes,’ for purposes of this part, means the extent to which all pupils of the school demonstrate that they have attained the skills, knowledge, and attitudes specified as goals in the school’s educational program.” Ed. Code § 47605 (b)(5)(B)

Accountability to Demonstrating Skills Mastery, Knowledge, and Attitudes Assessments

Nestle Avenue Charter School will measure students’ mastery of skills including knowledge, application, synthesis, and evaluation of all standards as delineated in California Instructional Frameworks for Language Arts, Math, Science, Social Studies, English Language Development, Art, Health, Technology, and Physical Education. Our school will gradually begin to transition from the existing content standards to the newly adopted Common Core State Standards. (Attachments)

STAR – API – AYP

Nestle will measure student outcomes in the same way other LAUSD and state schools determine growth and achievement. We will participate in the California Department of Education’s Standardized Testing and Reporting (STAR) Program. The STAR Program includes four tests: the California Standards Tests, the California Modified Assessment, the California Alternate Performance Assessment, and the Standards-based Tests in Spanish.

Students in 2nd through 5th grade take tests in math, reading, writing, and science. Each student takes the test determined by specific needs as established by the District and the state requirements. Teachers and parents use test results to improve student learning.

The Academic Performance Index (API) is used annually as a means to gauge how well our students are learning the state content standards. Additionally, the state reports the Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) as mandated by the federal requirements under No Child Left Behind. Nestle will continue to be part of this accountability system.

CELDT
Students identified as English Learners through the home language survey are assessed with the California English Language Development Test annually. Students found to need support in the development of their English language skills, receive ELD instruction for 30-45 minutes a day. They are expected to complete one ELD level or more per year and to reclassify at the end of 5 years or earlier.

Nestle Avenue Charter School will continue to utilize the School Performance Meter and the established school and District goals stated on the performance meter table below.

Nestle Avenue Charter School met AYP on the 2010-11 CST in all areas except English Learners while our Socioeconomic Disadvantaged students made safe harbor. An increase in the new immigrant population in the upper grades accounts for a lower percentage of English Learners who scored proficient/advanced on the ELA section of the STAR assessments. However, we have focused our intervention efforts on targeted assistance for our ELs. In addition, Nestle purchased a computer-based program, Imagine Learning, to supplement the instruction of our English Learners.

Element 3: Method by Which Student Outcomes Will Be Implemented

“The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured.”

Ed. Code § 47605 (b)(5)(C)

Nestle Avenue Charter School will use a variety of assessments to measure student progress. We will use systematic and ongoing diagnostic, formative and summative information gathered from CST scores, periodic assessments, publisher tests, teacher-created tests, performance assessments, teacher observations, rubrics used for writing assignments/assessments & projects, and computer/online assessments.

Teachers use the data from these assessment tools to inform their instruction during meetings before the start of school, on Tuesdays’ banked-time professional development meetings, and during weekly grade-level meetings. All these opportunities to collaborate, allow our teachers to plan instruction, create intervention groups, and target individual students for specific intervention during the time for differentiation.

Teachers and the principal share the established annual goals with parents during Back to School Night, through the monthly newsletter, and through the teachers’ weekly letters to parents.

In-house Benchmark Assessments
Methods by which student progress is measured include authentic and standardized assessments
- Authentic assessments are ongoing and can better evaluate the child over time and in a variety of settings. Examples of authentic assessments are teacher-developed assignments and activities, homework, anecdotal records, journals, work samples, grade-level and teacher-developed tests, rubrics, criteria charts, short-term/long-term projects, and learning contracts.

- Standardized Assessments:
  California Standards Test (CST), California English Development Test (CELDT), California Modified Assessment (CMA), California Alternate Performance Assessment (CAPA as stated on the student IEP), Treasures Reading Assessments/Fluency, District Periodic Literacy, Math Assessments, and District Science Assessments for Grades four and five. The district is currently testing all second graders to qualify for gifted identification.

Testing
Nestle Avenue Charter School agrees to comply with and adhere to the State requirements for participation and administration of all state mandated tests. As a District affiliated charter school, Nestle Avenue Charter School will test with the District and adhere to District testing calendars and procedures for all state mandated assessments.

How Data Will be Used
Nestle Avenue Charter School strongly believes in data-based decision making to meet the needs of all students, to monitor the school’s progress and to establish future goals and interventions. Specific examples of this include:

- Data from combined assessments is evaluated continuously by teachers and administration in order to meet each student’s educational needs. Data is also used to identify and prioritize professional development priorities as well as to provide topics for discussion during grade level planning.
- District assessment results and authentic assessments are communicated to parents by the teaching staff throughout the school year in a variety of ways such as email communication, weekly progress reports, and online grade books.
- School-wide data is also shared in a public forum at monthly governance meetings, when it’s available, in order to discuss upcoming program development and intervention priorities.
- Data regarding our SLL’s is shared at ELAC meetings. Data from CELDT is communicated to parents.
- MYDATA may be available to all parents, teachers, and students for immediate access to grades, scores, and attendance. Instantaneous access to this information provides all stakeholders the ability to monitor student performance and academic growth. In addition, intervention can take place in a timely manner. This information will be utilized to assist administration and teachers in critiquing and examining data and to develop an effective professional development program on an ongoing basis.

Identification of Grading Policy
Individual classroom teachers will be primarily accountable for assessing their students’ progress with regard to grade-level work and content standards. Student progress toward meeting expected student outcomes is monitored on an ongoing basis at each grade level by assessments aligned to the state’s standards. Student progress toward achieving the school’s desired grade-level standards will be communicated to parents by providing immediate feedback on class assignments and homework assignments as well as by means of the unsatisfactory progress report and regular conferences with the student’s teachers. Proficient levels of the district and state standards are summarized on the progress report that was introduced by the LAUSD in the 1999-2000 school year.

The LAUSD Progress Report uses a 4-point scoring rubric that aligns with classroom teachers’ daily work assignments. Students earn a “4” for Advanced; “3” for Proficient; “2” for Partially Proficient; and “1” for Not Proficient Levels.
The academic standards include specific learning topics in the different subject areas for each grade level: language arts is divided into reading, writing, listening, and speaking; mathematics; history and social science; science; health education; physical education; and the arts.

The standards for lifelong learning (i.e., work and study habits) include use of time, independence, organizational skills, and quality and completeness of work. The standards for character development (i.e., learning and social skills) include respect, cooperation, dependability, responsibility, self-control, and fair play.

Progress is reported to the parents three times annually using the LAUSD Progress Report. Teachers hold face to face conferences with parents at least twice a year. Additionally, parent conferences are conducted as needed throughout the year.

Element 4: Governance

"The governance structure of the school, including, but not limited to, the process to be followed by the school to ensure parental involvement." Ed. Code § 47605 (b)(5)(D)

Nestle Avenue School is an elementary school grades K-5 that proposes to be converted to an Affiliated Charter within the Los Angeles Unified School District and to be known as Nestle Avenue Charter School. As an Affiliated Charter, Nestle Avenue Charter School will continue to follow all established LAUSD policies and guidelines.

Nestle Avenue Charter School is subject to the governance of the LAUSD Board of Education, which has a fiduciary responsibility over Nestle Avenue Charter School. Governance at the school site level shall be in accordance with the provisions of this petition and will be consistent with all applicable state, federal laws and regulations and the provisions of collective bargaining agreements. Any governance model in conflict with the above shall be null and void unless the appropriate parties have agreed to a waiver or exemption. Absent agreed upon waivers between the District and UTLA, Article XXVII of the LAUSD-UTLA CBA must be adhered to, particularly in regards to Local School Leadership Council composition and responsibilities.

In the event that Nestle Avenue Charter School changes from affiliated charter status to independent charter status, Nestle Avenue Charter School and/or its non-profit corporation will be a separate legal entity and will be solely responsible for the debts and obligations of the Charter School. If Nestle Avenue Charter School changes its status to an independent charter school, Nestle Avenue Charter School shall submit a petition for material revision with articles of incorporation and bylaws for District’s approval.
The school site governance structure is the Nestle Avenue Charter School Governance Council where decisions are made that involves various aspects of the school within the authority of the Local District Superintendent and LAUSD Board of Education. The Governance Council's actions and decisions shall be bound by the decisions of the Local District Superintendent, Los Angeles Unified School Board, LAUSD policies and procedures and State laws applicable to charter schools. The District reserves the right to appoint a non-voting single representative to the Charter School governing council.

Nestle Avenue Charter School Governance Council responsibilities include, but are not limited to:
- categorical block grant budget
- curriculum/instruction

- scheduling of school events
- determination of site level calendar
- implementation of students admissions and/or enrollment policies in accordance with the District policy
- student conduct
- community relations
- categorical block grant management
- school operations

All attempts will be made to gain consensus, the preferred method of decision-making. In the event that consensus cannot be reached, decisions can be reached by a quorum. Any decision made cannot impact LAUSD personnel including; salaries, health benefits and job security. LAUSD personnel issues will be dealt with according to the Collective Bargaining Agreements between LAUSD and the respective bargaining unit.

This Governance Council, also known as our School Site Council, shall consist of 12 members: principal, 5 staff members (including 1 classified representative), teacher union chapter chair, and 5 parent/guardian representatives. Council members are elected for 2 year terms. The District reserves the right to appoint a non-voting single representative to the Charter School governing council. The Nestle Avenue Charter School Governance Council operates under its bylaws and may from time to time revisit the policies and procedures and amend its bylaws accordingly.

Members of the Charter School's governing council, any administrators, managers or employees, and any other committees of the Charter School shall comply with federal and state laws, nonprofit integrity standards and LAUSD’s Charter School policies and regulations regarding ethics and conflicts of interest. Nestle Avenue Charter School will participate in any and all audits and inspection of records as would any other typical LAUSD elementary school. A vacancy in any office is filled at the earliest opportunity by a special election of the council, for the remaining portion of the term of office.

The Nestle Avenue Governance Council and committees shall comply with the Brown Act and meet at least 8 times per year. All meetings are open to the public and members of the school community in accordance with the Brown Act. Notifications on Governance Council meetings shall be published on the school website and/or school display cases at least 72 hours in advance. In addition, an agenda for each meeting will be posted online and/or school display cases at least 72 hours prior to the meeting. Furthermore, 24 hours notice must be given in the case of emergency meetings. Each year, the Governance Council will vote for a chairman, secretary, and a parliamentarian. Minutes of each meeting shall be taken and available for review online upon approval. Every person has a right to inspect and copy these public records.

Nestle Avenue Charter School recognizes that the principal is the school leader. In the event that the Governance Council should take a vote of non-confidence in the school principal, LAUSD will work with the Governance Council to change the principal in accordance with the appropriate collective bargaining agreement and District policy.

The work of the Nestle Avenue Charter School Governance Council shall be accomplished through the activities, reports, and recommendations of its various advisory committees. Issues arising before the Governance Council will be referred to the appropriate committee for consideration and its recommendations shall be presented to the Leadership Council for final approval. Each committee shall be chaired by a teacher and a parent representative may serve as an advisor. All committees may have both parent and teacher representation. All committee meeting will be open to the public and meeting notices advertised one week prior. Everyone interested will be encouraged to attend. Involvement in the Governance Council and the various committees will provide for direct parent and teacher involvement regarding the ongoing process of reviewing and revising the school’s educational program to meet the unique and changing needs of our students. Any parent of a child enrolled at Nestle can nominate themselves as a candidate to sit on a committee for the at large position then each candidate is invited to speak to the respective committee to present their qualifications before the Council selects one candidate. The Governance Council will then elect the candidate into the position of parent at large through a quorum vote.

Staff members are elected by their peers to sit on committees during a staff meeting. The representatives must be confirmed by the Governance Council with a quorum vote. It is noted that each committee is headed by a teacher that will be selected and ratified by the Governance Council at the first meeting of the new school year. Every teacher will serve on at least one committee or subcommittee. Committees meet at least four times per year, but when circumstances arise, it is expected that committee members meet to address any pressing need.

The budget plan for the financial operation is consistent with the requirements of any school district budget and is designed to identify the costs associated with the operation of an affiliated charter school serving a population of students kindergarten through fifth grades. Nestle Avenue Charter School will open with grades K-5 and remain at that level in the subsequent years. Nestle Avenue Charter School budget will flow from the LAUSD and be allocated to Nestle. At present time, the District does not provide Nestle with three-year financial projections. The District ensures adequate cash flow for Nestle. Nestle Avenue Charter School will be operated as an affiliated charter with LAUSD. As a District affiliated charter school, Nestle will be afforded resources in the same manner used for all District Schools. Nestle does not invest funds and deposit any received funds through the District process.

Budget decisions will also be made by taking into account the priorities of the school as well as the parent community. Prior to creating budgets for the upcoming fiscal year, a meeting will be held with the Nestle parent community to determine their goals with respect to the school’s educational program. The results of this meeting will assist the committee in determining how the budget for the upcoming year might be allocated.

Nestle will participate in any and all audits inspection of records as would any other typical LAUSD elementary school. Nestle will be subject to District oversight and that this oversight shall continue throughout the life of the charter school. Oversight also includes monitoring of the school’s progress and attainment of measurable pupil outcomes, as well as adherence with all applicable laws and regulations, court orders, and the terms of the charter, and financial reporting requirements. Nestle will also expect that oversight shall include a review of the school’s performance in the areas of academic achievement, governance, organizational management, finance, and the attainment of applicable benchmarks as well as a review of adherence with applicable law, regulations, and the terms of the charter. It is also understood that the District will identify the school’s strengths, underdeveloped areas, develop specific goals to facilitate school improvement.

LAUSD Charter Policy

Nestle will comply with the District policy related to charter schools, including the Affiliated Charter Schools bulletin, as it may be changed from time to time. In the event that the charter needs to be amended, the Nestle Avenue Charter School Governance Council will need a resolution raised and a quorum vote for approval of the amendment in order for the amendment to move forward for submission to the Innovation and Charter Division for approval from the LAUSD Board within the legal timeline.
*Members of the Nestle Avenue Charter School governing council, any administrators, managers or employees, and any other committees of the Charter School shall comply with federal and state laws, nonprofit integrity standards and LAUSD’s Charter School policies and regulations regarding ethics and conflicts of interest.

Grievance Procedure for Parents and Students
As a District affiliated charter, Nestle Avenue Charter School shall comply with District’s Grievance policy and procedure for Parents and Students.

Responding to Inquiries
Nestle Avenue Charter School shall promptly respond to all inquiries, including but not limited to, inquiries regarding financial records. Nestle Avenue Charter School acknowledges that it is subject to audit by LAUSD including, without limitation, audit by the District Office of the Inspector General.

If an allegation of waste, fraud or abuse related to the Charter School operations is received by the District, the Charter School shall be expected to cooperate with any investigation undertaken by the District and/or the Office of the Inspector General, Investigations Unit.

Notifications
Notification is to be made to the Charter Schools Division of any notices of workplace hazards, investigations by outside regulatory agencies, lawsuits, or other formal complaints, within one week of receipt of such notices by Nestle Avenue Charter School.

Involvement Policy
Nestle reaches out to the parents and the community through its Parent Center and its Parent Teacher Association. The parent center director schedules classes no less than 2 times per month geared to educate the parents on ways to support the education of their students. There is a very active PTA that sponsors events such as the Fall Family Fun Fair, Lunch Bunch, Nestle’s Talent Show, Fridays’ School Spirit Wear Day, Annual Health Fair, School Sparkle Day, and many more events that support the school and encourage parent participation. Additionally, Nestle maintains its community informed through its monthly newsletter, its website, and Blackboard Connect telephone/email messages and monthly ELAC and SSC meetings.

Process for Communication with Parents & Teachers about Educational Programs
Nestle makes sure to keep parents well informed about the academic growth of its students. The principal and teachers conduct an annual Back to School meeting for parents to share API and AYP results. At that meeting, the parents also receive the goals for the current academic year. Teachers send home reports of student progress regularly and meet with the parents to discuss the progress report of each child. We keep in mind the languages spoken at our school and strive to hire individuals who will support those languages.

Credentialed administrators will be recommended to the local district superintendent for a final determination.

As an affiliated charter school, Beckford Charter for Enriched Studies will abide by all present and future employee-related contractual agreements with UTLA, AALA, Local 99 and other collective bargaining units and LAUSD.
