TITLE: Review and Consideration of Request for Special Education Evaluation

NUMBER: BUL-4140.1

ISSUER: Sharyn Howell, Executive Director
Division of Special Education

DATE: September 29, 2010

POLICY: Federal regulations, CFR 300.503, permit local education agencies to review and consider the appropriateness of requests for special education evaluation. This Bulletin provides guidance and procedures to schools reviewing such requests for evaluation.

GUIDELINES/PROCEDURES: The following guidelines apply:

Procedure:

Within 15 days of receipt of a written request for special education evaluation, parents must receive an assessment plan for their consent or a written notice that the request for assessment is not appropriate at the present time. To determine if a referral for special education evaluation is appropriate, the school administrator/designee and Individualized Education Program (IEP) evaluation team members (as appropriate) must review the following:

1. Student records and academic history;
2. Prior assessments including curriculum based, standardized tests and alternative measures/procedures;
3. Progress in current program (including English Language Development);
4. Progress in meeting content standards;
5. Progress in meeting literacy and mathematic standards;
6. Results of state and district assessments;
7. Results of proficiency examinations;
8. Results of portfolio assessments/student work samples;
9. Types and results of academic and/or behavioral intervention provided;
10. Teacher information/concerns;
11. Parent information/concerns.
GUIDELINES/PROCEDURES (cont.):

In the event that the school determines that a request for evaluation is inappropriate, the school administrator/designee will provide a written notice (ATTACHMENT A or B [Spanish]) containing all of the following information:

1. A description of the action refused by the school;
2. A description of each evaluation procedure, assessment, record, or report used as a basis for the decision;
3. An explanation of why the action was refused;
4. A description of any other factors relevant to the decision;
5. A description of any other options considered and the reason those options were rejected;
6. A statement that the parents of a child with a suspected or confirmed disability are protected by procedural safeguards and, if this notice is not an initial referral for evaluation, the means by which a copy of a description of the procedural safeguards can be obtained;
7. Sources for the parent to contact to for assistance with questions or further explanation.

Notification of Procedural Safeguards to Parents:

Each school must ensure that parents are properly informed of protections under the procedural safeguards of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. The written notice to the parent must include a copy of the District’s “A Parent’s Guide to Special Education Services (Including Procedural Rights and Safeguards).”

Distribution of Documents:

The school administrator/designee is responsible for providing written notice to the parent. One copy of the notice must be kept in the student’s cumulative folder. If the student is currently a student with an IEP, (a) a copy of the notice should be placed in the (green) special education folder, (b) an entry should be made on the Welligent IEP in the “Case Notes” section that indicates that the parent was mailed or received the written notice, the date of the entry, and (c) a scanned copy of the notice should be attached to the student’s IEP in the Welligent system.

AUTHORITY: This is a policy of the Superintendent of Schools. This policy is authorized by federal regulation, CFR 300.503.

FORMS: Schools are to use the sample letters (Attachments A or B [Spanish]) to communicate to parents after careful review and consideration of the request for special education evaluation indicate that a special education evaluation is not appropriate.

ASSISTANCE: For assistance or further information, please contact your Psychological Services Coordinator, Support Unit Coordinator, or Alnita Dunn, Director, Psychological Services, Division of Special Education, at (213) 241-8303.
